They Declare Against the Conspiracy Law-and in Favor of Unlimited Boycotting— Their Part in the Present Campaign.

TROY, Sept. 18 .- There was anything but unanimity in the State Labor Convention to-day. Distrust was under the surface everywhere. Delegates seemed to think there was some plan afoot to work the Convention in the interest of one or the other of the great political parties. Much of this suspicion was undoubtedly the result of a report that A. H. Gallahue and A. F. Smith were here as emis-saries of Warner Miller. Color was lent to the suspicion because Gallabue was registered at the American House under the name of George Dewinn. The story was that a resolution en-dorsing Gov. Hill was to be offered, and as it would surely be voted down it would be sent out as a censure of the Governor by the work-ingmen. If any such plan was contemplated it was not attempted.

The Convention did not get together until 10 o'clock, when the Committee on Rules pre-sented its report. One of the rules provided that all resolutions should be submitted in writing and sent to the Secretary to be read to the Convention. Walter N. Thayer, thought he saw a cat under the meal and intimated that if that rule was adopted some trickster would get some sort of a political resolution before the body. After considerable debate Mr. Thayer secured the carrying of a motion sending all resolutions without reading or delate to the Committee on Resolutions.

Chairman Morrison of the Committee on Resolutions then presented the report of that committee, which included a very long preamble. The committee, however, declined to allow members of the press to copy the report until it had been acted upon. The preamble declares that the Convention was held to secure the repeal of the detestable conspiracy laws, which are more compatible with the tyrannical governments of Ireland, Germany, and Russia; that the judiciary has favored the monopolist classes; that section 168 of the Penal Code, as expounded by Judge Barrett of the Supreme Court in the case of Hart agt. Gill, and confirmed by the Court of Appeals, has produced a state of affairs which is unjust and intolerable; that anything which can be done by an individual without criminality cannot become criminal because agreed upon by two or more persons; that the fact that under our popular form of government such grisyous laws against the industrial masses in the interest of the privileged classes remain in force demonstrates that the Republican and Democratic machines, while professing friendship for labor, are false and hypocritical charlatans, devoid of truth, justice, or statesmanship; that history shows that the money getters and the ruling class have always acted together to deprive workers of the fruits of their toll, and that the Fenal Code of the State comes in a direct descent from the edict of the Roman Emperors, and a number of authorities are cited in support of this proposition.

In consideration of this state of facts the Convention resolves that organized labor in the State of New York pledges Itself to take such measures as will bring about the repeal of all Industrial conspiracy laws antagonistic to the spirit of free institutions, and further resolves that a Central Executive Committee of one from each Congress district represented in the Convention, with the Chairman and Secretary located in New York, shall be elected to carry out the will of this Convention and to secure the successful astiation of these questions throughout the State, and that the wage workers by their organizations shall make their demands upon the Legislature of the State thoroughly effective.

It is further resolved that the accompanying amendments to the Penal Code be adopted by the Convention as the action which organized labor demands from the lawor variety and inte laws, which are more compatible with the vrannical governments of Ireland, Germany, and Russia; that the judiciary has favored the trade, or handicrait for the purpose of securing or aiding other persons so employed in securing an advance in the rate of warss or compensation, or more faverable conditions of employment in any other respect, or of maintaining or aiding other persons so employed in maintaining such rate or conditions, or of obtaining or aiding other persons so employed in obtaining the redress of any grievance against employers is not a conspiracy. And it shall not be unlawful for any persons employed in any calling, trade, or handieraft for the purposes of such cooperation to units, combine, or bind themselves by oath, agreement, alliance, or otherwise to persuade, advise, or encourage by peaceable means any person or persons to eater into any combination for or against leaving or entering into the employment of any person, firm, or corporation to withhold his or its custom patronage or employment from any person, firm, or corporation."

Section 675, after the last semicolon, to be amended: "But nothing in this code contained shall be so construed as to prevent any person from demanding from employers an increase of wages or other more favorable conditions of employment or the redress of any grievances, or from using all lawful means to induce employers to pay such wages or grant such conditions to all persons employed by them or to induce any person, firm, or corporation.

The committee also recommends the adoption of this resolution.

The working that the workings of the conspiracy invastend to injure the organizations of working women as well as those of working men, we call upon all women to cooperate with us in bringing about this rebail. We ask them to work by means of committees, rublic meetings, and direct communication with the Central Committee.

Mr. Fleisch of Ne

himself to vote to repeal these conspiracy laws.

An intimation having been made that Chairman Finklestone wanted to sidetrack the labor movement he ascended the platform and interposed an indignant denial. The delegate who had made the charge came here at the demand of a party which recommended that the labor element refrain altogether from voting this year. That, he insisted was a political movement of one of the old parties.

The report of the committee was adopted. At the afternoon session the Convention proceeded to appoint the Executive Committee called for by the resolutions, and the following was appointed—many of the Congress districts not being represented:

het being represented:

het and district, R. Thompson, Fourth district, Frank L. Sables, Fifth district, George McVeigh Nigth district, George Van Aredale; het anth district, H. Hills;

trict. F. J. McGnire: Eighteenth district. Charles A. Regers: Nineteenth district, George W. Ferrell: Twenty-fith district. Joseph C. French.

Regers: Nineteenth district, George W. Ferrell: Twenty fifth district. Joseph C. French.

Then the question arose whether the permanent officers of the Convention should be the officers of the Executive Committee. This was voted down, and so was a resolution that the committee elect its own officers, and that task devolved upon the Convention, with the stipulation that the officers to be chosen must be residents of New York City. Nearly a dozen delegates were named for Chairman of the committee, but all declined except Edward Conklin of the Progressive Painters and H. A. Hicks of the Stair Builders. On the first ballot each received 36 votes, but on the second ballot Hicks beat Conkling 48 to 38.

Half a dozen men were named for Secretary, but all withdrew except William Shakespeare of Cigarmakers' Union No. 144. of New York, and he was chosen. Paul Siebert of Cigarmakers' Union No. 11. of New York, was elected Treasurer, Resolutions of sympathy with Gladstone and Parnell were adopted. No time was fixed for the holding of the next Convention, that matter being left to the Executive Committee. The Convention gave its moral support to local assemblies Nos. 58 and 58, brickmakers, of New York and New Jersey.

MR. GIBBENS MEETS THE MAYOR. An Ex-Parte Account of what was Possibly n One-sided Interview. General Humidity presided at the meeting of the Board of Electrical Control in its little office in Wallack's Theatre resterday after-noon. The office is so small that the Board is going to move. Commissioner Gibbens per-spired as he read to Commissioners Hess and Moss an application from the Prohibition party for permission to erect poles and a wire upon which to stretch a banner across Broadway at Thirty-fourth street.

"What have we to do with that?" exclaimed

A young man with a pale face and a Prohibition badge asked if the Board would hear him. and before the Board had had a chance to respond he explained that the Country of t and before the Beard had had a chance to respond he explained that the Department of Public Works had referred him to the Board.

The young man said his name was Jeremiah
H. Griffin and he paused for a reply.

"We are only authorized to license the erection of poles to be used for electric wires." said Commissioner Gibbens, with soverity.

"I'm in favor of it; I'm a Prohibitionist," said Commissioner Hees.

"It's none of our business," said Mr. Moss sharply.

Commissioner Hess.

"It's none of our business," said Mr. Moss sharply.

"Can't stand any water in yours, eh?" said Mr. Hess. Petition granted, Mr. Moss voting no. A regulation was adopted requiring all electric are lamps to be nine feet above the sidewalk, or if indoors, eight feet above the floor, Mr. Gibbens put in a resolution directing the removal of wires to conduits in Broadway from Fourteenth to Thirty-fourth street, and in Sixth avenue from Eighteenth to Fifty-eighth street. The subways had been ready for two years, he said, and since the Mayor had confessed judgment he had no doubt the Board would be supported by him.

"Has the Commissioner had an interview with the Mayor lately?" asked Mr. Hess.

"I listened to him for an hour and a half the other day," said Mr. Gibbens, evasively.

"That's more than he would have done for you." said Mr. Hess, and then everybody laughed.

This resolution was adopted:

That all permits heretofore granted to electric light companies and use larged years are revoked.

That all permits heretofore granted to electric light companies, and not already acted upon, be revoked, and that the Commissioner of Public Works be notified that there are at present no permits extant, and that no further works are to be undertaken until he hears from this Board.

The visitors brought their apparatus with them, and for all concerned it was a gala day. The inspection and parade were very fine.

Maine and Her Blueberries.

BANGOR, Sept. 18 .- The great blueberry growing section of Maine is in the central part of Washington county, where are vas plains covered with the hardy and productive little bushes. This year, in the vicinity o Cherryfield, there have been about a thousand men, women, and children picking blueberries men, women, and children picking blueberries for the canneries, and they have done very well at the work. The packers pay four cents a quart generally, delivered. Out of the four cents must be paid one to one and a half cents a quart for hauling to the cannery, and also a small fraction to the landowner for the privilege of picking, leaving the pickers themselves an average of two and one-half cents a quart. The season is about over now, and it is estimated that the Washington county pack will aggregate 32,000 cases, valued at $77,000. In one day recently one cannery packed 324 bushels.

BANGOR, Sept. 18 .- The western connection of the Canada Pacific with the Bangor and Piscatquis Railroad has just been made at Greenville, at the foot of Moosehead Lake, and very shortly a special train is expected down British road's officials. It is thought that within a week work will so far have progressed within a week work will so far have progressed upon the big iron bridge over the Penobscot, at Mattawamkeag, as to allow the passage of trains. This bridge has two spans of 150 feet each, one of 140 feet, and several of less length. Track laying is progressing rapidly, and the Pacific's telegranh poles are all up as far as yancebore, on the eastern border of the State. Immense quantities of rails and other supplies for the road are passing through Bangor every day. Soon Bangor will have a new and short line to the West, but the people would much prefer an American line.

Father and Son Found Half Stifed.

They put up at René Dupres's hotel, 112 West put up at René Dupres's hotel, 112 West Twenty-fifth street. Then they went out to Marquette, Mich., to seek employment. They came back a week ago to the hotel. Yesterday morning they were found unconscious in theirs room. The gas was turned on. The son came around all right at the New York Hospital. The father will recover, too, the doctors say. The son went to work on Monday at the Hotel Brunswick. It is supposed that they left the gas on by accident.

A Woman's Sentence for Shoplifting. Mrs. Anna Riker, who was arrested with her married daughter last Friday for shoplifting in Ehrich's, was tried yesterday in Special Sessions. Mrs. Riker was sent to the peniten-tiary for six months, and the daughter com-mitted to the City Frison for a day. The Chil-dren's Society took charge of another daughter. Eva. who is 8 years old. An Injunction Can't Stop Contract Work on Oregon R. and N. Branch Lines. Argument was heard yesterday in the order to show cause in the suit of Brayton Ives and others against Elijah Smith and others of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company why defendants should not be pun-ished for violating an injunction restraining the construction of branch lines and bridges in Washington Territory and elsewhere, and in Washington Territory and elsewhere, and also for withdrawing funds from the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.

The affidavit of Elijah Smith admitted that he withdrew $1.200,000 from the Trust Company for the purpose of avoiding litigation and getting it out of the jurisdiction of the court. The money was withdrawn before the order of the court was granted, and was sent to Boston, but still in the possession of the company to be used in building branch lines, which work is being done under contract.

Judge Barrett decided that the court had no right to restrain the continuance of the work on the branch lines under contract, but ordered a reference to get at the facts about the withdrawal of the funds.

If notoriety of the character they are receiving brought them disgrace in their own estimation, it might be well to continue the references to their lack of morality. But the indications are that they regard pub-lic criticism and condemnation as so much

But the indications are that they regard public criticism and condemnation as so much free advertising, by means of which they gain an importance to which they are not justly entitled. The more Mr. Armour and his associates talk, the more unenviable does their position appear to every honest man. Recent developments have shown that Mr. Armour's standard of business morality is no higher than would be naturally expected in one who has devoted the best years of his life to plying the knife upon dumb animals. The experiment of selecting a corporate trustee from the slaughter yards has been a failure.

All of the reports from the West to-day were of a decided improvement in railroad traffic. That the volume is large is shown conclusively by the fact that all of the Granger and Southwestern roads that have been heard from so far report larger gross earnings than a year ago, although rates are materially less. If the managers of these roads could be compelled to cover their short contracts in the stock market the situation could be materially improved, even in the face of the strong anti-corporation sentiment. The advance in grain rates that all of the trunk lines, except the Pennsylvania have made voluntarily, as well as the partial restoration of rates on dressed meats, is the best evidence of the improvement that is taking place regarding this importatant group of roads. Their condition will unquestionably be further improved at the meeting of the Presidents of the trunk lines, which will be held in this city on Friday.

The movement in New England, which was, next to that in the Granger stocks, the most conspicuous development to-day, appeared to originate in Boston. It could not have been a surprise to those who have observed the stock all through the depression caused by the break in St. Paul. The usual stories regarding the property which have done service so often were brought out again, but without attracting much attention. The street has apparently come to the conclusion that the stock and its only anxiety

THE Lawyers' Title Insurance Company

OF NEW YORK. 120 BROADWAY.

This Company having completed its first business year, a statement of its condition on July 31, 1886, is herewith presented.

As it was organized for the purpose of insuring titles

As it was organized for the purpose of insuring titles after examination by counsel selected by dealers in real estate from among those approved by the Company, making insurance additional security to the certificate of counsel, a comparison seems proper between the results of its methods and those of other companies operating on the entirely different principle of examination as well as insurance of title by a corporation. For this purpose there is also presented the report of the largest and oldest of the only other Title Companies of this city (organized in 1882) of its condition June 36, 1888, as filed in the office of the Superintendent of the Bank Department.

filed in the office of the Superintendent of the Bank Department.

A comparison of these statements will show that the Lawyers' Company has a full paid capital of $500,000, while the other has $914,500 subscribed and paid of a capital of $1,000,000; that plant, which is not available as a cash asset, represents in the statement of the Lawyers' Company less than $14,000, while in the statement of the other company it represents more than $450,000; and that the net cash resources of the Lawyers' Company after one year of business, and on a capital of $500,000, amount to nearly $502,000, while the net cash resources of the other company, after six years of business and on a paid capital of $014,300, amount to a little over $533,000.
